

"I have used Sirle Adamson's professional help as an event organiser three times with my private and corporate functions in Brisbane, while living there in 2006 and 2007. Ever since I met Sirle, I've been very impressed with her amazing energy and her ability to solve and eliminate any problems as soon as they appear. Her skills in beautiful presentation, culinary secrets, service etiquette and process management, combined with her rational common sense, did absolute wonders within the small budgets I had allowed for those events."
